

SOCIAL SCENE

Berkshire freelancer wins award

Freelance marketing consultant Jane Rimmer from Binfield, Berkshire, was crowned winner of The PCG Freelancer Award in The Remote Worker Awards, in association with BT Business at the winning ceremony held at The Grand Connaught Rooms in London.

Paula Wynne, from Wokingham, the co-founder of award-winning website, Remote Employment, Google's No 1 job site for flexible and home based jobs, launched The Remote Worker Awards in association with BT Business to highlight how home working and remote working benefits the British public and their working life.

Jane Rimmer, from Binfield with Paula Wynne.

Mary Flavelle is excited by the awards.

Business woman Karen Darby addresses the awards.

Claire Young, from The Apprentice, speaks to guests.

Paula Wynne and Remote Employment co-founder Ken Sheridan.

■ Paula will be back in London on October 12 to launch her new book Create A Successful Website, to be launched at HSBC, Women in Business. Don't miss her new, free, on-line advice service for Berkshire & Buckinghamshire Life readers, starting this month. If you have any queries about setting up your own website, just contact Paula by clicking on The Remote Worker Awards tab on our website's home page and commenting on this article. (Registration required). The first three people to send in a query will be sent a copy of Paula's book.

